OPEN REVOLT IN ARMY OF NICHOLAS

Sussian Troops No Longer Loyal to Little Father.

REGIMENTS UNDER SUSPICION

Two Are Confined to Barracks and a Third Has Been Broken Up—Rioting and Murder Continues Throughout the Empire.

London, June 12.—The Tribune's St. Petersburg correspondent reports the arrest of several non-commissioned officers of the cavalry guard, and the Preobrajensky guard regiments, and says that both regiments have been confined to barracks, while the Novocherkasky regiment has been broken up and distributed to various cities and towns in consequence of the discovery of revolutionary literature in its quarters.

Russ Police Chief Killed.

Bielstok, Russia, June 12.—Chief of Police Derka Tchoff, against whose life several attempts had been made, was shot and killed Sunday by several unknown persons, while he was out driving. His coachman was severely wounded. At the same time the secret police were attacked in another portion of the town, one of them being wounded.

Sergius Andrejevitch Mouromtseff, President of the Russian Douma.

Six Killed in Warsaw.

Warsaw, June 12.—Six persons were killed in the rioting here Sunday. The disturbances are reported to have been organized to avenge the execution of Marozewski, who was executed Saturday morning for attempting to kill a police officer.

Gorremykin's Time Short.

St. Petersburg, June 12.—In spite of the official denial, belief that the retirement of the Goremykin ministry is at hand was reasserted Sunday by the Rech, the constitutional democratic organ, which apparently is looking hopefully forward to the installation of a cabinet more in harmony with the lower house of parliament.

The Pope Goes to St. Peters.

Rome, June 12.—Pope Pius Sunday went to St. Peter's for the beatification of the venerable Bona Ventura, of Bagnorea. Thousands of persons were admitted to the basilica on tickets. There was some fear felt for the safety of the pope in view of a rumor being spread that three French anarchists intended to make an attempt on his life. The police took energetic measures to see that there was no breach of the peace and the ceremony passed off with no untoward incident.

Steamer Westland Aground.

Philadelphia, June 12.—The steamer Westland, from Liverpool to Philadelphia, is aground at the entrance to Delaware Bay on South Shoal. The pilot boat Philadelphia is endeavoring

ELECTRIC CARS COLLIDE.

Brakes Refused to Work, and Several People Were Injured.

New York, June 12—Two electric cars of the Union railway were in a head on collision at Yonkers and Jerome avenues.

The motorman of one car is seriously injured, while 20 passengers are suffering from injuries ranging from a broken leg to cuts and bruises.

An open car was standing on the Yonkers avenue track when a closed car approached in charge of Motorman Flanagan. Flanagan seemed to have full control of the car until suddenly the brake chain pooped. He threw on the reverse lever, but that seemed to do no good.

The car was gaining momentum speed with every foot as it went down the steep grade, and when it struck the open car it was going at a terrific rate of speed.

The front platform was mashed and the passengers were thrown violently about.

Mrs. John Leary's leg was broken, while her husband received many painful bruises. Miss R. O. Toole was severely injured internally. These were sent to hospitals. Others were treated by ambulance surgeons.

Charter Asked for New Road.

Valdosta, Ga., June 12.—Prominent capitalists and business men of this city have made application for a charter for the Valdosta, Moultrie and Northwestern railroad, which they propose to build from this city to Moultrie. The line will be 38 miles long, and will run through the counties of Lowndes, Brooks and Colquitt. C. R. Ashley, E. F. Rose, R. F. Ousley, H. C. Bailey, J. Y. Blith, J. A. Dasher and D. C. Ashley are the incorporators. The capital stock of the company will be $200,000 and the men behind the enterprise say they will construct the line as speedily as possible.

Cotton Burns on Steamship.

Savannah, Ga., June 12.—Fire on the British steamer Langdale destroyed 200 bales of cotton and damaged others. The vessel lay at the wharves of the Atlantic Coast Line, laden with 5,000 bales of cotton, and with resin and spirits of turpentine. The fire was discovered in the cotton, and quite near the naval stores. Hard work on the part of the firemen and the crew prevented the spread of the flames from the cotton to the more inflammable cargo. The Langdale was to sail Sunday for Bremen, but the fire will necessitate postponement of her sailing.

Experiment on Butter Storage.

Washington, June 12.—Some extensive experiments in the making and storage of butter have recently been conducted by the dairy division of the bureau of animal industry, United States department of agriculture, in an effort to solve the difficulties encountered in the butter trade. A bulletin containing a report of the experiments has been issued. The conclusion is that light salting and low temperature, and the use of cream received at the creameries in a sweet condition, give the best results for storage but Debt Caused His Suicide.

Russellville, Ky., June 12. Robert Bowles, of Louisville, Ky., committed suicide in a hotel here by shooting himself in the head with a revolver. The act had been carefully planned, and was committed after Crowe had written a number of letters to relatives and to his firm. Crowe represented a Louisville hardware firm, and had been here for several weeks. A draft given by him for a board bill to a hotel was returned and in a letter to the hotel man Crowe stated that the deed was committed on account of financial difficulties.

Cases Dismissed.

Kansas City, June 12.—In the U. S. district court here the cases against the Chicago and Alton and the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railways, charged with granting rebates in export shipments and against D. R. Kreeger, a Kansas City freight broker, charged with conspiracy to obtain rebates for shippers, were dismissed at the suggestion of A. S. Van Vo-

JETT MAKES A FULL CONFESSION

Tells of Assassination of Kentuckians.

CONFIRMS EWIN'S STATEMENT

It Is Believed that Jett Has Made Confession and Implicated Parties Not Indicted in Connection With the Breathitt Cases.

Lexington, Ky., June 12.—A special from Winchester, Ky., says that Curtis Jett, now in the Clintonia jail, awaiting trial on the charge of killing James Cockrell in Johnson, three years ago, has made a full confession, telling of the assassinations of Dr. B. N. Cox, James Cockrell and James L. Marcum. Among the other things Jett is said to have confirmed the statements of B. J. Ewen, the star witness in the Marcum case, who, he said, told the truth in the trials from beginning to end, and that Tom White, who was charged with complicity in the assassination of Marcum, told him that the testimony of the plot to kill Marcum was true.

Samuel Jett, an uncle of Curtis Jett, and B. R. Jouett who have been prosecuting Curtis Jett, decline to discuss the reported confession.

It is believed here that Jett has made a full confession and implicated parties not indicted in connection with the Breathitt cases.

P. F. Altizer, who sent the report, is a stenographer for B. R. Jouett and is said to have inside information.

Miners In Convention.

Birmingham, Ala., June 12.—The ninth annual convention of the United Mine Workers of America, district No. 20, Alabama, began here Monday with 150 delegates present. President dward Flynn, in his report said that the strike inaugurated July 15, 1904, at the mines of several large mining corporations this state, continues without material change and with no prospect of a termination in the near future. He added that during the long period of the strike the mine workers have maintained "unprecedented loyalty and have observed the dignity of the law." President Flynn declares that the mining laws of Alabama are "lamentably deficient" and recommends the creation of a legislative committee to appear before the next legislature and urge legislation to secure better laws. The miners are also urged to vote for men for political office who will "enact and enforce laws guaranteeing the miners more protection."

152,000 Troops Landed at Odessa.

Odessa, June 12.—Since the commencement of the troops which took part in the war with Japan 152,000 men including the Russian prisoners from Japan, have been landed here and distributed throughout the entire country. The most stringent precautions were observed during the whole period in order to prevent the slightest intercourse between the returning troops and the townspeople in consequence of fears of mutinous demonstrations. The spirit of disaffection was more noticeable among the officers than in the men. The former frankly expressed the opinion that if parliament can hold its own until the spring it will be able to count on the army to support its demands.

Bishop Potter Returns.

New York, June 12.—Bishop and Mrs. Henry C. Potter arrived Sunday on the White Star liner Celtic after a trip to Great Britain and the continent. On the way up from quarantine, the bishop talked of his experiences while abroad. Referring to the relationship between Great Britain and the United States, he declared there was no love lost between the two countries when he was asked whether the beef disclosures had reached the country before he left there, he replied that they had and with much animation said of the meeting with

GEORGIA WRECK COSTS LIVES.

Engineer Blackburn, of Atlanta, Died Sunday Night.

Augusta, Ga., June 12.—Engineer T. J. Blackburn, of Atlanta, who was in charge of the wrecked train of the Georgia railroad Saturday night, and who was scalded, died from his injuries at the city hospital here Sunday night. He was brought in on the wrecking train and his wife summoned. She was with him when he died.

A. S. Morris, a fireman, of the Macon division, and who was riding in the cab of the wrecked train, was the first victim. He was so badly scalded that his removal was deemed unwise. He lingered until noon Sunday. The other injured are reported as doing well.

The cause of the wreck is still a mystery. The statement that the train split a switch is incorrect, and the road officials deny that the rails had spread.

The total number of injured was thirteen.

Paul Breitenbach, Prussian Minister of Public Works.

Three Arrested for Man's Death.

Huntsville, Ala., June 12. W. M. Campbell, a grocery merchant and cotton mill operator, was killed early Sunday morning in front of an alleged dive in the red light district. Zeuber Smith, an employe of the Merrimack cotton mills, surrendered to the police in a short time after, claiming to be the man that killed Campbell. The prisoner told conflicting stories of the affair, which led to an investigation by the police, and two other men have been arrested as accomplices in the murder. They are Pat Allen and Jim Armstrong. Smith claims Campbell was attacking him with a knife and cuts on his coat appear to verify the statement. Campbell was shot over the right eye through the brain but lived one hour without regaining consciousness.

Poured Whisky Into Street.

Moultrie, Ga., June 12.—The municipal authorities attracted quite a crowd and caused a mild sensation by pouring a quantity of whisky in the streets that had been confiscated from time to time by the officers in raiding the blind tigers. The whisky has been a white elephant for several months, there being no provision in the city laws for the disposition of the confiscated stuff. Recently an order has been secured from the court authorizing the pouring of it out and several loads of it were taken into a public street and the mayor, city clerk and several policemen went to breaking bottles. A large crowd gathered and witnessed the scene of whisky flowing like water down the streets and into the sewers.

Locked in Cabin by Boat's Crew.

Savannah, Ga., June 12.—The fishing smack Gracie put in Sunday with Captain T. H. Mimms locked in the cabin and most of the crew bearing marks of battle. The crew had the captain arrested, declaring he was crazy, and had attacked them, whereupon they shut him in the cabin. The captain declared he had taken refuge there after having been attacked by the crew, who sought to murder him. The captain says the crew made their attack upon him May 29, and that he has remained in the cabin ever since. The trouble aboard the vessel will be investigated

"IT IS TOO SUDDEN" SAYS W. J. BRYAN

When Told of Resolutions Favoring His Nomination

FOR PRESIDENCY IN YEAR 1908

As to Possibility of His Nomination, He Had Little to Say, Declaring It Is Too Early to Speak of the Question as Yet.

Berlin, June 12.—"This is too sudden," said William J. Bryan, with a laugh, when he was told Monday of the adoption by recent state conventions of resolutions favoring his nomination for the presidency of the United States in 1908. "This is the first announcement of this news to me," Mr. Bryan concluded. "I have been off the main caravan route for some time, and have been absorbed in what I have been seeing and doing."

Mr. Bryan had been moving so rapidly since he left Vienna on Saturday that letters and telegrams for him did not reach him until today. As to the possibility of his nomination, he had little to say, declaring it is too early to speak of that question, but taking up the subject of the political requirements, he said:

"Before leaving home I tried to distinguish between Democracy and what can properly be called socialism. Democracy recognizes competition as legitimate and tries to preserve the competitive principle from attack. Socialism sees competition as an evil to be eliminated by public ownership and operation of all means of production and distribution. While this distinction between Democracy must be one of progress and reform, and not merely of opposition to Republican policies or socialistic ideas. In our fight for the absolute elimination of private monopolis and for the regulation of corporations in general, it is necessary that the party shall be free from any suspension of alliance with the corporate interests that have been dominating American politics. To this end campaign contributions must be limited to those who have the public interest to advance. I trust that public sentiment will require all parties to keep their books open so that hereafter no party will be under private obligations to shield corporate offenders."

Alluding to conditions in the meat industry, Mr. Bryan said:

"The beef trust is not different in character and methods from other trusts. The tendency of a private monopoly is to increase the price of a product and to lower its quality. Why should any one expect anything else from a trust than the lowering of quality when a monopoly is established. Observe I have used the words private monopoly, not public. In a private monopoly a private interest is set up against those of the whole people. Quite a different principle comes into operation when the interest of all is alone in view."

Herman Eiddler, of the New York Zeitung and Mr. Bryan had a long talk Monday. Mr. Bryan will leave here for St. Petersburg Tuesday and from there will visit Norway and Sweden. He will arrive in England early in July, and then will visit France, Italy and Switzerland. He expects to sail on the steamer Princess Irene from Gibraltar on August 22 and to arrive in New York on August 29.

Sunday Beer Costs His Dear.

Appleton, Wis., June 12.—Rev. A. H. Zeckel, a representative of the Wisconsin Anti-Saloon League, was found guilty of violating the Sunday labor law by purchasing beer on the Sabbath to secure evidence that a saloon keeper had violated the Sunday closing law. The jury was out half an hour.

Bishop Delaney Dead.

RIVERS APPEARS TO BE WINNER

Will Lead Over All Candidates, As Far as Returns Show.

CALHOUN WASN'T IN IT

His Friends Were Suprised and Disappointed at the Poor Showing He Made, as They Were Confident. Dampier for County Commissioner.

The second primary, which was held on Tuesday, the 12th, past off quietly in this county.

It was predicted that on account of the inclement weather which prevailed, coupled with other things which would offer excuses, the vote would be light, but with few exceptions the number of votes polled in proportion to the first primary, the result is all that was anticipated.

Of all precincts heard from in Alachua, Bradford and Levy counties up to 11 o'clock Tuesday night, for State Attorney, Calhoun received 330 votes, Fielding 667 votes and Rivers 795 votes. There has been nothing heard from Baker, and despite the fact that a persistent effort was made to get the vote of Putnam county, it was impossible to do so.

The returns so far received indicate the nomination of Rivers, but vote will be close between Rivers and Fielding.

It is conceded that Dampier will be elected by a safe majority over Cason for county commissioner.

Following is a tabulated statement of the vote in this county, so far as heard from:

In Mayor's Court.

Ernest Hickman was arraigned in mayor's court upon a charge of disorderly conduct by fighting, and was fined $25 and costs.

It appears from the evidence that Hickman got into an altercation with a former companion over some trivial matter, when it is claimed the former drew a revolver and threatened to "do up" the other fellow. He stated in the court, however, that he was "only teasing."

Meat Scandal in Mexico.

Mexico City, June 12.—Governor Landa, of the federal district; Dr Liceaga, president of the superior board of health, and other officials have been inspecting the methods of slaughtering animals for the supply of the city markets. Cattle it is stated, are coming here from distant points, often by rail from Chihuahua, a four days' journey by freight trains, without being fed, and are killed when in that condition.

The team will play out the season according to schedule.

Goblets with stem and stand like those we use today were employed in Troy 900 B. C. Among the valuable objects found by Dr. Schliemann was a golden goblet. Vessels of this metal were commonly employed in the service of the temples.

A Secret

It aids nature a little, that's the only secret about it. We refer to Ayer's Hair Vigor. It feeds the hair, makes the scalp healthy. The hair stops falling out and all dandruff disappears. The result could not be different, for it's the natural way. And it is a splendid dressing, keeping the hair soft and smooth. Why not save what hair you have and get more at the same time? J. C. FINE PROGRAM ON GLORIOUS FOURTH

Committee Has Made Arrangement For Interesting Events.

A BIG CROWD EXPECTED

Advertising Has Been Issued Which Will be Distributed, and Visitors Are Expected by the Hundreds—Novel Feature in Racing Circles.

The committee appointed by the Board of Trade at its recent meeting to arrange a program, advertising matter, etc., for the great excursion and Fourth of July celebration to be held here, have completed their labors well, with the result that streaming, glaring, alluring posters of big dimensions, full of red and blue ink and bold type, have been issued.

The program comprises athletic games of all kinds, including foot races, sack races, tournaments, etc., with two baseball games between champion teams. The game in the morning will be between the Central Citys and another crack team of the State, and in the afternoon the white team of this city and some other champion team of the State will contest for honors. The prize in each case will be $50 to the winning team.

The advertising matter will be distributed to every point throughout the State within a radius of fifty miles, and a big crowd and a big time is anticipated for that glorious occasion.

One of the most interesting features, and one which will surely prove a drawing card, was not included in the list of attractions. This will, it is said, be a friendly wager of a package of cheroots and two bottles of red soda water, between J. R. Fowler, who owns a fine Cadillac automobile, feels proud of it and has a right to be, and George Taylor of Palmer, superintendent of the Gainesville Peach Orchard Company, who owns what he terms a "cracker pony." These gentlemen will engage in a race from Crawford & Davis' stable to the Seaboard Air Line depot. Both feel confident of winning the honors, but Mr. Taylor says he knows that Mr. Fowler "ain't in it." Remember, this race will actually occur, and it will be one of the features of the day.

STREETS ARE BAD.

North Pleasant Especially in a Most Deplorable Condition.

While it is no more than natural that the streets should be badly dilapidated on account of the heavy rains which have prevailed for the past few days, and in the absence of sewerage, the conditions on some thoroughfares are deplorable. This is especially true of North Pleasant street, and West Main street N. in the vicinity of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad station, both of which are badly in need of repair. North Pleasant street is in such condition that it is almost impossible of access.

However, when the system of sewerage now building is completed, the streets will be properly paved, and the drainage will keep them reasonably dry.

Florida Coast Storm Center.

Washington, June 12.—The southern storm was central Sunday night off the western coast of Florida, and some high winds have been reported from southern Florida points. Storm warnings are displayed on the Atlantic coast and gulf coast from Jacksonville to Mobile.

Zulus Being Slaughtered.

Durban, June 12.—Natal forces under the command of Colonels McKenzie and Barker have had a serious fight with rebels in the Mome valley. The rebels were defeated, 350 of them being killed, including the important chief Mehtokazulu.

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

Is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots need be so if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that ruins the hair at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Owsley Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal growth of hair. WILLEFORD HAPPENINGS.

People Glad Election Will Be Over. Notes of Personal Interest.

Willeford, June 12.—Today is election day and there are several of the best citizens of this precinct who have said they would not come out to vote, as they are so disgusted with politics on account of the false statements of so many of the candidates until they do not want to have anything to do with them. That is a good reason why all the good men should be out to vote against men with such principles.

John R. Thomas lost another mule Sunday. His many friends extend to him their sympathy, as this is two mules he has lost in less than a week.

Mr. Smoser, who is employed as tie inspector for W. C. Maxwell, has returned from Jacksonville, where he has been for the past few days.

We are glad to know the candidates are gradually disappearing from our midst and being replaced with tie men and drummers.

We had a "medicine man" with us Monday, recommending liniment to cure dead mules and blind dogs.

John G. Dampier of Hague was among our visitors Saturday.

We are glad to know that Mr. Long, who has been very sick for the past three weeks, is improving.

J. C. B. Thomas, formerly of this place but now of Tyler, was greeting friends on the streets Tuesday.

PICNIC AT TOWNSEND'S

East End People Will Show Patriotism on Fourth of July.

With a desire to show their patriotism, coupled with a desire also for a fine day's outing, the good people of the Townsend section, in the East End, have arranged to hold a grand basket picnic and celebration on the glorious Fourth at a shady grove between the homes of John and Lum Townsend, in what is commonly known as the "Middle Lane." This is one of the most desirable locations in the State for a picnic, large, well-kept grounds, with an abundance of shade and pure water.

Delicious refreshments will be served upon this occasion, which will be interspersed with a good dinner. The public is cordially invited to come and bring well-filled baskets.

There will be good music, and a grand time is expected.

Masonic Notice.

There will be a regular communication of Gainesville Lodge No. 41, F. A. A. M. tonight at 8 o'clock. There will be work in the Master Mason's degree. All members are specially invited to be present and visiting brothers will be cordially welcomed. There will be refreshments at the close of lodge. By order of W. B. Higgins W. M., R. McClellan, Sec.

TUCKER GIVEN ONE DAY'S GRACE

After Being Baptized, He Will be Executed.

Boston, June 12.—Charles L. Tucker, who is in the death house of the state prison at Charlestown awaiting execution for the murder of Mabel Page, has at least one more day of life.

Contrary to custom, Tucker will not pay the forfeit of his crime early Monday morning. The warden of the state prison will not say when the sentence of the court will be carried out, but it is known positively that Tucker will not be executed before midnight Monday. It is understood that the reason there will be no execution on Monday is in order that the condemned youth may receive the rites of baptism.

Rev. Thomas Bishop, Methodist, a former pastor of the condemned man and who is acting as his spiritual adviser, will perform the service.

Tucker still maintains stoutly that he is innocent. His remarkable calmness and courage has not deserted him, although he is no longer hopeful.

Lipton Will Visit United States.

New York, June 12.—R. A. C. Smith was an arrival from Liverpool on the Celtic. While abroad he spent several days aboard the steam yacht Erin with Sir Thomas Lipton, while the Irish Baronet was cruising in the Mediterranean. He made the interesting statement that Sir Thomas would visit the United States during this summer, but could not say anything regarding his yachting plans.

Negro Killed in Shafting.

Moultrie, Ga., June 12.—A negro named John West, employed at the Huber & Norman Lumber company's mill, was caught in the shafting and killed. He was not discovered for some time and his clothes having caught about the center of his body, he was kept spinning over the shafting until dead, although he was not bruised or hurt in any particular otherwise.

Now that the primary is over our people should get together and let bygones be by-gones.

You can spend your vacation at some of the numerous resorts in Florida just as pleasantly and beneficially as anywhere in the world.

The city officials should see to it that every street, yard and alley is kept in perfect sanitary condition. The weather of the past few weeks has been of the kind calculated to cause sickness, and every precaution should be exercised to ward it off.

Secretary Shaw in his speech at Newton, Iowa, said he "was authorized to speak for the National Administration" and as he attacked Governor Cummins on the tariff issue, it is evident that President Roosevelt has taken a backward step from where he stood on tariff revision.

Smoot's seat is safe until next winter. The Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections has postponed further action until after the fall elections. What a fine thing it is to be a polygamist and a Republican Senator at the same time. Senator Burton of Kansas should get a few more wives, and have them on hand when the Supreme Court takes up his application for a rehearing.

As the result of the obstructive tactics of the Democrats of the House the Republicans have been forced to an agreement to admit Oklahoma and Indian Territory into the Union as one State at the present session of Congress, and to accept the proposition to admit Arizona and New Mexico as one State, only on condition that a majority of the voters of each of those Territories so elect, by a vote to be cast at a regular Territorial election, when officers of the Territories are voted for.

We have received the 1906 number of "Wonderland," a handsome work in magazine form which has been issued annually by the passenger department of the Northern Pacific Railway. The work contains seventy-six pages, is handsomely printed and illustrated on heavy-coated paper, and is truly a work of typographical art. The book is full of interesting descriptive matter concerning the Northwest, and Yellowstone National Park. This work will be sent to any address upon receipt of six cents, to pay postage, by A. M. Cleland, general passenger agent of the Northern Pacific, St. Paul, Minn.

The municipal election in Tampa last Tuesday forms a pretty good indication of what the public thinks about the question of municipal ownership. There were three candidates for mayor in the field—one opposed to municipal ownership, another who ran upon that well known platform of "I favor it, but—," and a third who declared unqualifiedly in favor of the municipal ownership of all public utilities. This last one was elected. Municipal ownership sentiment has grown until it now represents a majority of the people everywhere and the opponents of the system may as well recognize that fact now as later.—Pensacola Journal.

CLARK'S DRAINAGE BILL.

Congressman Frank Clark has introduced the following bill in the House of Representatives relating to draining the Everglades:

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That three million dollars of the moneys hereafter arising from the sale of public lands, and which, under the act of June 17th, 1902, would otherwise become a part of the reclamation fund, may be used for the purpose of constructing a suitable and comprehensive system of drainage of the lands known as 'The Everglades,' in the State of Florida, under the supervision of the Secretary of Agriculture: Provided, That all the expense of such construction, including salaries and the maintenance of work for a period not exceeding ten years, shall be assessed against the lands proposed to be drained in proportion to benefits, said assessments to be levied and the money to be paid in not to exceed ten annual installments, under such law and regulations duly enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida as, in the judgment of the President of the United States, shall be adequate to insure the repayment to the United States of all moneys expended under the terms of this act: Provided, further, That all moneys derived from such assessments shall be paid into the treasury of the United States by the said State of Florida, and when so paid shall be converted into the reclamation fund to be used under the provisions of said act of June 17th, 1902: And provided further, That any money paid in by said State of Florida in excess of the total amount paid out by the United States, when the said works are completed, including the maintenance of the works, shall be returned to the said State of Florida."

There is supposed to be unexampled prosperity of the Republican high tariff type in Chicago, and there no doubt is for the protected Beef Barons and the other millionaires who are favored by special interests by virtue of Republican policies. Yet there seems to be a vast deal of poverty that requires the greatest economy to make both ends meet. The Chicago Commons has undertaken to overcome this poverty by teaching girls how to keep house on $10 a week. A large class has just graduated, who are all engaged to be married, who have learned to serve a breakfast for four for 19 cents and a dinner of meat, two vegetables, salad and pudding for 40 cents. It is to be hoped that the teachers of the Commons will add the study of political economy to the curriculum so that future housekeepers may know that under the present Republican high tariff the cost of living has increased 46 per cent. If the tariff and trust tax was deducted the $10 wages would go a deal further and there would be no need for such pinching economy.

For telling the truth about embalmed beef fed to our soldier boys, Gen. Miles was hounded and reprimanded by a Republican administration; now we know that the whole country has been supplied by the beef trust with similar foul and diseased provisions and the present administration has known it for a long time without publishing the facts.

And now the sword of Damocles has been suspended over the beef packers; but it will not be allowed to strike the heads of those worthies unless they fail to contribute to the corruption fund next fall. The big stick and the policeman's billy are the instruments that bring results in the race for boodle.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of small and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system. In 1905, Secretary Root described the Penrose-Durham gang of Pennsylvania as "a corrupt and criminal combination masquerading as Republicans." But since Senator Penrose, as chairman of the Senate Postoffice Committee, has recommended the confirmation of the President's friend, Barnes, as postmaster at Washington City, the President has, with the approval of Secretary Root, agreed to visit Pennsylvania and make speeches in favor of restoring that "corrupt and criminal combination" to power in the Keystone State. Kissing goes by favor.

It would be hard to find any one man who fought the election of Congressman Frank Clark any harder than the editor of this paper in the primary that nominated him, but it is due Mr. Clark to say that he is making a record in the House of Representatives at Washington that ought to cause all Floridians to say: "Well done, thou good and faithful servant!" We'll transfer you from the turbulent scenes of the House to the more splendid dreams of the Senate.—Jacksonville Floridian.

The prospect of the early digging of the canal has put a great deal of new life in West Palm Beach. There is much feeling of encouragement among the business men that has not been noticeable for several years.

Richardson, the negro who was arrested in Starke and carried to St. Augustine to answer for killing his baby, will not be given a hearing but will be held without bail for the fall term of the circuit court, when he will be tried for murder.

James Tyson, commonly known as "Old Negro Jim," died near Maxville on the 8th of this month. He was a hundred and five years old at the time of his death. At the age of 75 he was one of the most powerful men of muscular strength in Florida, his average weight being 240 pounds.

The financial affairs of Key West seem to be somewhat tangled. Mayor Babcock is reported to have said that he was tired of putting his name to city scrip any longer, and wanted some competent auditor to straighten out the accounts and show him what he was drawing warrants against.

The Southern Railway has just received four new engines for use in its passenger service between Jacksonville and Atlanta. These are all high-speed engines and are the most modern passenger locomotives built. The drivers of these engines are six feet, seven inches in diameter, and carry 7000 gallons of water.

The new building to be used exclusively by The Tampa Daily Herald has been completed. A handsome new cross perfecting press capable of printing a sixteen-page paper is now being installed. Other expensive machinery has been received also. The Herald will be printed from its new home about the first of July.

In addition to ballasting the roadbed of the Florida East Coast railway, the company is replacing the rails with heavier ones. Between St. Augustine and Jacksonville the workmen are engaged in taking up the 70-pound and laying 90-pound rails. This, with the rock ballast, will make this the smoothest stretch of railway in the country.

Wednesday morning Messrs. W. E. Lewis, A. C. Hart and T. H. Barlow swung around the corner of Orange avenue and Pine street in Mr. Lewis' big automobile, and the boys gave them a "whoop-e!" as they gasolined along the avenue at a city ordinance rate bound for Grand Island. When about two miles north of the city, in some strange way the machine caught fire and fearing an explosion three pairs of stout legs belonging to three 2:10 trotters made a dead break for the woods, where from safe positions behind the friendly trees they mournfully witnessed the complete destruction of the costly automobile and its contents. It was a right hot fire, and it was the return to Orlando on the part of the weary passengers.—Orlando Reporter.

Fifty Shots Fired.

Dillonville, O., June 12.—An attack presumably by strikers, was made early Monday on the check house of the M. A. Hanna Coal company at Dillonville, when 50 shots were fired from a hill 200 feet distant. There were four watchmen in the building, but no one was injured. Officials of the company who were holding a conference with Mayor Ebert, of the attack, organized a party and went to the mine to protect their property. Not a shot was fired by the company's men.

Deadly Serpent Bites

Are as common in India as are stomach and liver troubles with us. For the latter, however, there is a sure remedy, Electric Bitters, the great restorative medicine, of which S. A. Brown of Bennettsville, S. C., says: "They restored my wife to perfect health, after years of suffering with dyspepsia and chronically torpid liver." Electric Bitters cure chills and fever, malaria, biliousness, lame back, kidney troubles and bladder diseases. Sold on guarantee by all druggists. Price 50c.

Benson Accepts Appointment.

Ottawa, Kans., June 12.—Judge A. W. Benson left Monday for Topeka to report to Governor Hoch his acceptance of the senatorial appointment. "It seems to be a time for a senator to get to work for his employers, if he is going to represent them," said Judge Benson Monday morning, "and I shall report in Washington as soon as possible. I may not be worth much as a statesman for awhile, because I shall have to learn the ropes, but I will try to vote right."

A Happy Mother

Will see that her baby is properly cared for—to do this a good purgative is necessary. Many babies suffer from worms and their mothers don't know it—if your baby is feverish and doesn't sleep at night, it is troubled with worms. White's Cream Vermifuge will clean out these worms in a mild and pleasant way. Once tried always used. Give it a trial. Price 25 cents. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

T. P. A. in Convention.

Buffalo, June 12.—The annual convention of the Traveler's Protective association assembled Monday with more than 1,000 delegates in attendance. Considerable interest centered in the election of officers. Thus far there are three candidates for the national presidency. Norfolk, Va., is seeking the next convention.

Ancient Rome

Is now merely a memory of the past. Ballard's Snow Liniment is the family liniment of the twentieth century. A positive cure for rheumatism, burns, cuts, sprains, neuralgia, etc. Mr. C. H. Runyon, Stanberry, Mo., writes: "I have used Snow Liniment for rheumatism and all pain. I can't say enough in its praise." Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Alleged Young Forger Under Arrest.

Columbus, Ga., June 12.—Emmett Weaver, Indian charged with forgery at various places in Georgia, was arrested at Perry and sent to Athens. He was found near Culloden. He succeeded in getting a friend to cash a check for $125 May 23. He claimed to represent the Baldwin Locomotive Works of Philadelphia, Pa.

Stimulation Without Irritation.

In case of stomach and liver trouble the proper treatment is to stimulate these organs without irritating them. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup aids digestion and stimulates the liver and bowels without irritating these organs like pills or ordinary cathartics. It does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Very Eccentric.

"He certainly is a genius, but I never considered him eccentric."

"That's just it. The average genius is eccentric, and his lack of eccentricity makes him all the more eccentric."—Philadelphia Ledger.

His Coat of Arms.

"Now that you are wealthy, Mr. C.," said the man who deals in pedigrees and the like, "you really should begin to adopt a coat of arms."

"I'll do just as I please," retorted Mr. C. hotly. "If I like to go about in my shirt sleeves, that ain't none o' your business!"

What Fred Douglass Said.

One cold night during the height of the civil war Hon. Frederick Douglass got out of a train at Jersey City. He wore a big shawl on top of his overcoat, and a New York reporter, seeing the dark skin and towering form of the traveler, stopped him with the question, "Indian?" "No!" shouted Douglass. "Nigger!"

A few doses started the brick-dust-like substance and now I have no pain across my kidneys and I feel like a new man. It has done me $1,000 worth of good." BRIDE SPIRITED FROM STATE.

Mother Gets Ahead of the Court's Writ.

Moultrie, Ga., June 12.—Mrs. Jesse Holland, nee Peterman, the young woman that it is alleged eloped with her lover last Saturday night and was married, has been spirited into another state by the mother to avoid habeas corpus proceedings.

Young Holland came to Moultrie and went before Ordinary T. H. Parker and secured a writ requiring Mrs. Laura Peterman, mother of the young bride to come to Moultrie and show cause why she should restrain the young woman against her will and without due process of law. The friends of the family heard of the action and passed the word out in time for the mother to get the daughter across the state line before the officer arrived.

When deputy Sheriff A. G. Vick called at the home of Mrs. Peterman he was laughed at. Holland was here in consultation with his attorneys but refused to divulge his plans for the future.

Woman Shoots Assailant.

Charlotte, N. C., June 12.—With rare presence of mind, Miss Pearl Jones, night telephone operator at Selma, N. C., shot and fatally wounded Bud Anderson, who, by his own confession, had premeditated rape upon her. Miss Jones heard noises in the rear of her office, and went to investigate. The negro attacked her and she shot five times, several bullets taking effect. The negro, who will die, made a confession, implicating a companion. The latter has been jailed. In his confession the negro admits the purpose of his errand and attack, and says this is his third attempt to assault the girl.

Cured of Bright's Disease.

Geo. A. Sherman, Lisbon Red Mills, Lawrence Co., N. Y., writes: "I had kidney disease for many years and had been treated by physicians for twelve years; had taken a well known kidney medicine and other remedies that were recommended, but got no relief until I began using Foley's Kidney Cure. The first half bottle relieved me and four bottles have cured me of this terrible disease. Before I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure I had to make water about every fifteen minutes, day and night, and passed a brick-dust substance, and sometimes a slimy substance. I believe I would have died if I had not taken Foley's Kidney Cure." J. W. McCollum & Co.

Boston, June 12.—Governor Guild made public Monday a telegram received by him from President Roosevelt, in which the president, after pointing out that he had been requested to interfere with the execution of Charls L. Former Judge Dead.

Chicago, June 12.—Former Judge George A. Brown, recently one of the counsel in the trial of the packers in the federal court died Sunday night of a complication of diseases. He served two terms as county judge in Dupage county, two terms as circuit judge and was appointed justice of the appellate courts of the second and third district by the supreme court.

Novel Oyster Parties

Oyster parties are the great diversion of the Spanish gentlemen who pay family visits to Vigo. The party goes out in a large flat bottomed boat. Then the oysters are fished up, opened and eaten on the spot, and a prize goes to the guest who can show most shells at the end of the day. In excuse it may be said that the Vigo oyster is small, for a prize winner will sometimes show as many as 200 shells.

JACK MASON'S WAGER

HE WON IT IN GREAT STYLE WITHOUT "TURNING A HAIR."

From all accounts Jack Mason in his youth was the wildest rattling young blade in the country. One of his sporting escapades is a household tradition down in old Quantico to this day, says Alexander Hunter in Outing.

There was a large plantation in the section owned and worked by a Scotchman, an elderly man, who employed no overseer, but filled the place himself. He was the typical stern, bigoted Scotch Covenanter as drawn by the immortal pen of the Wizard of the North. He was a fanatic in all things and was utterly out of place among the pleasure loving Virginia gentry. It was the irrepressible antipathy of the Cavalier and Puritan—the rising of the bristles of the boar at the approach of the staghounds. He herded by himself, and they left him severely alone. The canny Scot was himself no sportsman, nor would he allow any of the neighbors to fire a gun on his place.

Now it happened there was a large ball near by, with Jack Mason in attendance, of course, and during the night the young planters discussed the chances of autumn shooting and deplored the failure of all their efforts to be allowed to hunt on the Scotchman's preserves. Jack Mason offered to bet his favorite horse against any of equal value that he would shoot over that preserve on the morrow and with the full and free consent of the owner. He was asked if he knew him personally or had unknown means of winning his favor.

He answered in the negative and added he had never even met the Scot in his life. The wager was closed there and then.

The next morning as the old Covenanter was walking up and down the porch enjoying his after breakfast pipe a strange apparition advanced up the gravel walk and took off his three cornered hat and made him a sweeping bow. The Scot winked his eyes and looked again. He saw a slender, effeminate looking fellow some twenty-five years old who seemed literally to have stepped from the ballroom. His ruffled shirt front was adorned with a diamond, mother of pearl buttons gleamed on his sky blue coat, and his satin small clothes glistened in the sunshine. A pair of silk stockings were gartered by a love knot bow of blue ribbon, and his dancing pumps were decorated by a jeweled buckle. He carried a gun in one hand, and two pointer dogs trooped at his heels.

"Well, what do you want?" asked the planter.

In a mincing voice the intruder asked his gracious permission to shoot a few birds, saying he had been dancing all night at Warwick hall and needed a little morning exercise.

The Scot gazed at him with the same feeling perhaps that his stalwart mountain bred ancestor had at the perfumed dainty fops of Charles II.'s court. He was about to utter a curt and positive refusal when his grim Scotch humor got the better of him. He came near hilarious laughter as he saw that delicately clothed creature standing so clean, jaunty and nice and then pictured him returning from the hunt, his costly attire in rags, his tender limbs scratched, his morning glory all gone. So he smiled in his beard and asked him if he intended to hunt just as he was dressed. He was answered in the affirmative. So he gave his assent that his unknown guest for that one day might shoot all he pleased, and then he started off for the low grounds to attend to the cornshucking.

A short time after his negro manager came running up to him and said:

"Marster, there won't be a bird left on dis here place. De man's a debbil, and de dogs is the debbil, and the gun is a debbil."

Dropping his work, the owner hurried to the scene, and he opened his eyes very wide indeed at what he saw. In front of the house was a stubble field of several hundred acres that had been harvested in wheat the same year. It was as level as a table and an ideal feeding place for the quail. For hours they had whistled, mated and reared around the place, all undisturbed until they became almost as tame as barnyard fowls. The owner and the dogs stand motionless, saw the sportsman pick his way gently as they were, saw a few birds rise in puffs of smoke, followed by a simultaneous report. Two dropped, then the dogs retrieved. The game was handed to a nondescript negro lad whom the sportsman had picked up somewhere, who had tied the birds to a string and wrapped it around his body until he was hidden from view.

The gun was loaded and capped in a minute. The performance was repeated. The man never hurried, the dogs beautifully trained, never bungled, the gun never missed, and the sportsman, never "turned a hair." The stockings were a little colored by the cheeseweed, but he was ready to lead the minuet that moment.

The Scotchman at first was furiously angry, but as he saw the matchless work of the trinity of destructive agents—man, gun, dog—so perfectly blended into one, and beheld in the affected coxcomb the same metal which under Rupert had again and again broken the steel fronted squares of Cromwell's Ironsides, he advanced and asked his name, and when it was given he answered, "I might have known it."

BRIDE SPIRITED FROM STATE.

Mother Gets Ahead of the Court's Writ.

Moultrie, Ga., June 12.—Mrs. Jesse Holland, nee Peterman, the young woman that it is alleged eloped with her lover last Saturday night and was married, has been spirited into another state by the mother to avoid habeas corpus proceedings.

Young Holland came to Moultrie and went before Ordinary T. H. Parker and secured a writ requiring Mrs. Laura Peterman, mother of the young bride to come to Moultrie and show cause why she should restrain the young woman against her will and without due process of law. The friends of the family heard of the action and passed the word out in time for the mother to get the daughter across the state line before the officer arrived.

When deputy Sheriff A. G. Vick called at the home of Mrs. Peterman he was laughed at. Holland was here in consultation with his atorneys but refused to divulge his plans for the future.

Woman Shoots Assailant.

Charlotte, N. C., June 12.—With rare presence of mind, Miss Pearl Jones, night telephone operator at Selma, N. C., shot and fatally wounded Bud Anderson, who, by his own confession, had premeditated rape upon her. Miss Jones heard noises in the rear of her office, and went to investigate. The negro attacked her and she shot five times, several bullets taking effect. The negro, who will die, made a confession, implicating a companion. The latter has been jailed. In his confession the negro admits the purpose of his errand and attack, and says this is his third attempt to assault the girl.

Cured of Bright's Disease.

Geo. A. Sherman, Lisbon Red Mills, Lawrence Co., N. Y., writes: "I had kidney disease for many years and had been treated by physicians for twelve years; had taken a well known kidney medicine and other remedies that were recommended, but got no relief until I began using Foley's Kidney Cure. The first half bottle relieved me and four bottles have cured me of this terrible disease. Before I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure I had to make water about every fifteen minutes, day and night, and passed a brick-dust substance, and sometimes a slimy substance. I believe I would have died if I had not taken Foley's Kidney Cure." J. W. McCollum & Co

JACK MASON'S WAGER

HE WON IT IN GREAT STYLE WITHOUT "TURNING A HAIR."

From all accounts Jack Mason in his youth was the wildest rattling young blade in the country. One of his sporting escapades is a household tradition down in old Quantico to this day, says Alexander Hunter in Outing.

There was a large plantation in the section owned and worked by a Scotchman, an elderly man, who employed no overseer, but filled the place himself. He was the typical stern, bigoted Scotch Covenanter as drawn by the immortal pen of the Wizard of the North. He was a fanatic in all things and was utterly out of place among the pleasure loving Virginia gentry. It was the irrepressible antipathy of the Cavalier and Puritan—the rising of the bristles of the boar at the approach of the staghounds. He herded by himself, and they left him severely alone. The canny Scot was himself no sportsman, nor would he allow any of the neighbors to fire a gun on his place.

Now it happened there was a large ball near by, with Jack Mason in attendance, of course, and during the night the young planters discussed the chances of autumn shooting and deplored the failure of all their efforts to be allowed to hunt on the Scotchman's preserves. Jack Mason offered to bet his favorite horse against any of equal value that he would shoot over that preserve on the morrow and with the full and free consent of the owner. He was asked if he knew him personally or had unknown means of winning his favor.

He answered in the negative and added he had never even met the Scot in his life. The wager was closed there and then.

The next morning as the old Covenanter was walking up and down the porch enjoying his after breakfast pipe a strange apparition advanced up the gravel walk and took off his three cornered hat and made him a sweeping bow. The Scot winked his eyes and looked again. He saw a slender, effeminate looking fellow some twenty-five years old who seemed literally to have stepped from the ballroom. His ruffled shirt front was adorned with a diamond, mother of pearl buttons gleamed on his sky blue coat, and his satin small clothes glistened in the sunshine. A pair of silk stockings were gartered by a love knot bow of blue ribbon, and his dancing pumps were decorated by a jeweled buckle. He carried a gun in one hand, and two pointer dogs trooped at his heels.

"Well, what do you want?" asked the planter.

In a mincing voice the intruder asked his gracious permission to shoot a few birds, saying he had been dancing all night at Warwick hall and needed a little morning exercise.

The Scot gazed at him with the same feeling perhaps that his stalwart mountain bred ancestor had at the perfumed dainty fops of Charles II.'s court. He was about to utter a curt and positive refusal when his grim Scotch humor got the better of him. He came near hilarious laughter as he saw that delicately clothed creature standing so clean, jaunty and nice and then pictured him returning from the hunt, his costly attire in rags, his tender limbs scratched, his morning glory all gone. So he smiled in his beard and asked him if he intended to hunt just as he was dressed. He was answered in the affirmative. So he gave his assent that his unknown guest for that one day might shoot all he pleased, and then he started off for the low grounds to attend to the cornshucking.

A short time after his negro manager came running up to him and said:

"Marster, there won't be a bird left on dis here place. De man's a debbil, and the dogs is the debbil, and the gun is a debbil."

Dropping his work, the owner hurried to the scene, and he opened his eyes very wide indeed at what he saw. In front of the house was a stubble field of several hundred acres that had been harvested in wheat the same year. It was as level as a table and an ideal feeding place for the quail. For many years they had whistled, mated and bred around the place all undisturbed until they became almost as tame as barnyard fowls. The owner and his dogs stand motionless, saw the sportsman pick his way gently as they were, saw a few birds rise in puffs of smoke, followed by a simultaneous report. Two birds dropped, then the dogs retrieved. The game was handed to a nondescript negro lad whom the sportsman had picked up somewhere, who had strung the birds to a string and wrapped it around his body until he was entirely hidden from view.

The gun was loaded and capped in a minute. The performance was repeated. The man never hurried, the dogs beautifully trained, never bungled, the gun never missed, and the man in sporting parlance, never "turned a hair." The stockings were a little colored by the chickweed, but he was ready to lead the minuet that moment.

The Scotchman at first was furiously angry, but as he saw the matchless work of the trinity of destructive agents—man, gun, dog—so perfectly blended into one, and beheld in the affected coxcomb the same metal which under Rupert had again and again broken the steel fronted squares of Cromwell's Ironsides, he advanced and asked his name, and when it was given he answered, "I might have known it."
